Place a Candle in the Window

Till Your Laddie Boy Comes Home

Music by
Maxwell Goldman
COMPOSER of "OVER THE TOP"

Lyric by
Fern Glenn

BUCK AND LOWNEY
PUBLISHERS OF MUSIC THAT SELLS
CHICAGO ST. LOUIS
U.S.A.

Place a Candle in the Window

'TILL YOUR LADDIE BOY COMES HOME

Lyric by FERN GLENN

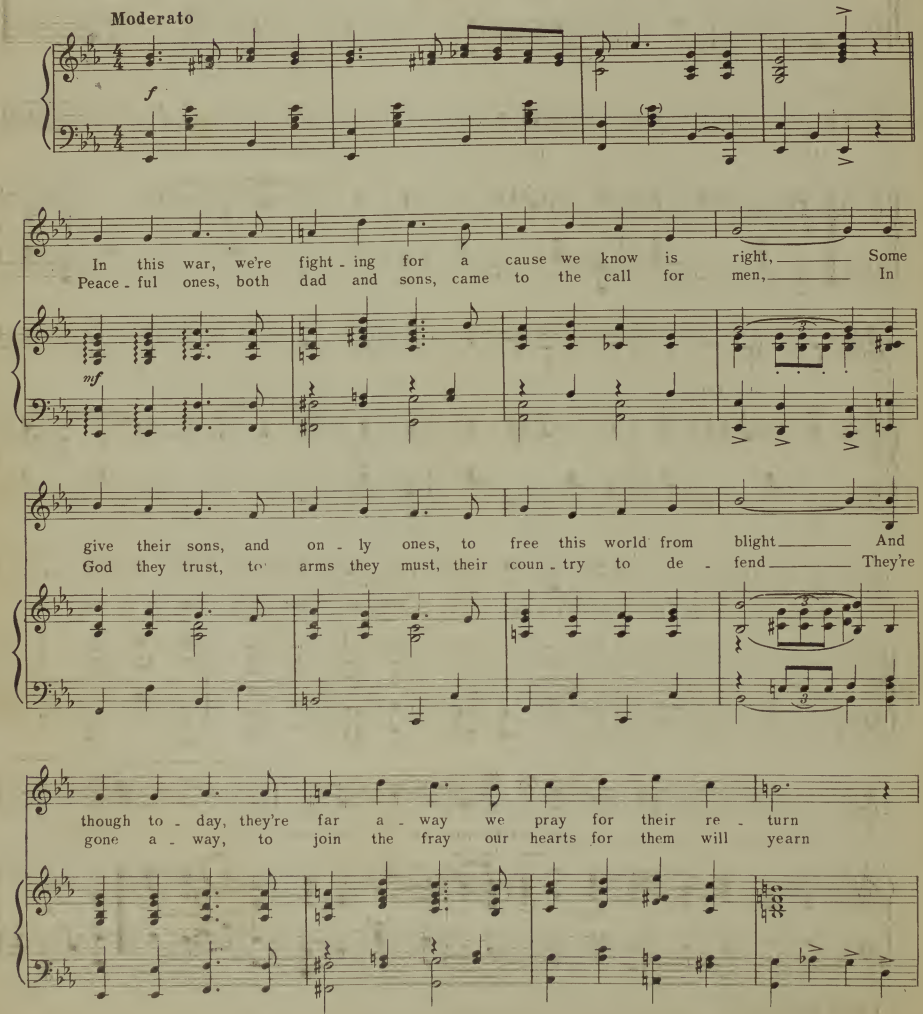
Music by
MAXWELL GOLDMAN
Composer of "Over the Top"



Moderato
f
In this war, we're fight - ing for a cause we know is right, Some Peace - ful ones, both dad and sons, came to the call for men, In mf
give their sons, and on - ly ones, to free this world from blight And God they trust, to arms they must, their coun - try to de - fend They're though to - day, they're far a - way we pray for their re - turn gone a - way, to join the fray our hearts for them will yearn

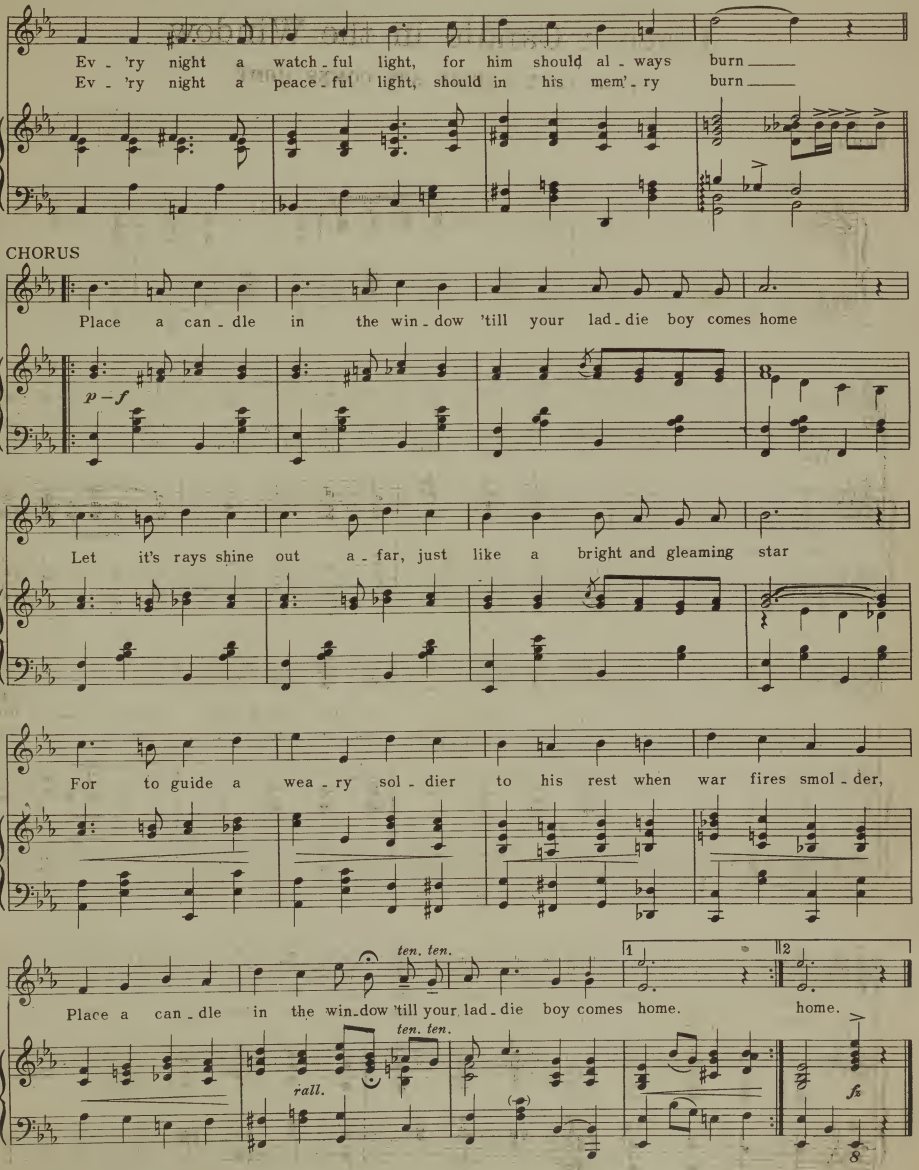
British copyright secured.

Copyright MCMXVIII by Buck & Lowney, St. Louis, Mo.



Ev - 'ry night a watch - ful light, for him should al - ways burn
Ev - 'ry night a peace - ful light, should in his mem' - ry burn
CHORUS
Place a can - dle in the win - dow 'till your lad - die boy comes home p – f
Let it's rays shine out a - far, just like a bright and gleaming star
For to guide a wea - ry sol - dier to his rest when war fires smol - der,
ten. ten.
1
2
Place a can - dle in the win - dow 'till your lad - die boy comes home. home.
ten. ten.
rall.
fz

Place a candle etc. 2.

You'll Want These Songs!

A VISION OF HAWAII—An Hawaiian Love Song

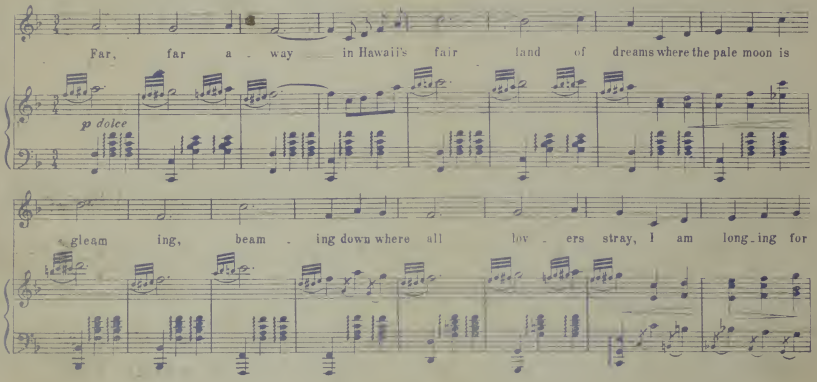
This song is written in Waltz time, and has that Hawaiian swing so desired by most of us. It is so pleasing—so sweet—so satisfying, and the words are blended with the music in such a manner, that you will sit at the piano many times during an evening and play it—and play it again. The way the music is arranged makes you think you hear a Ukelele and a Steel Guitar playing at one time.



Far, far a - way in Hawaii's fair land of dreams where the pale moon is p dolce gleam ing, beam - ing down where all lov - ers stray, I am long - ing for

YOU'RE THE FAIREST FLOWER IN THE GARDEN OF THE WORLD

This song is so out of the ordinary—so totally different—so tuneful—so original, that you will thank the publishers after playing it the first time. Try these few lines and then go to your nearest dealer and buy a copy. IT IS ONE OF OUR GREATEST HITS AND DESTINED TO BE OUR BIGGEST SELLER The Title Page is very plain, but artistic.

fair - er to me than the Li - ly, Your lips are more red than the Rose
The gold of your hair, is sure - ly more rare, Than the yel - low - est Jon - quil that

BUCK & LOWNEY

"PUBLISHERS OF MUSIC THAT SELLS"

ST. LOUIS, MO.